

If optometry is your calling, this is your community.

When you join the AOA and COA, you join a diverse community of dedicated optometric professionals.

In their communities and across the country, members are making a difference for our profession as well as their own practices.

Add your voice to the only organizations advocating in Sacramento and Washington, D.C. for both patient protections and the advancement of optometry.

Advocacy

Access a variety of innovative clinical resources for improving patient care, as well as convenient and affordable Continuing Education programs.

Education & Clinical Resources

By educating the public on the importance of comprehensive eye exams, the AOA and COA drive thousands of new appointments every year, building practices and improving lives.

Public Awareness

You've found your calling. Now, find your community. By becoming a member, you join over 45,000 optometric professionals nationwide who form a strong and unified voice for optometry. You belong here.
